

Luis González
Headmaster

It is a great honor and responsibility for me to accept the appointment of IES Mediterrània headmaster. I get very excited about the challenge which I face up with eagerness to service to our Educational Community willingly, -better than I was able to do as Head of Studies. However, my predecessor has set a high standard for me to reach.

Nowadays our Secondary School is a complex organization very close to the profile it was conceived for. We are a large Educational Community formed by a great team of teachers, civil servants, cleaners and maintenance staff who are in charge of 800 students and their families.

We have already come of age. Currently we are well-known and respected in all our region as a High Standard educational centre, in spite of being the youngest one. We are also known beyond our borders, since we take part in local, national and international Educational Projects. In our new journey we will have our ups and downs, but we will always try to go ahead with optimism and hope, we want to give high standard comprehensive training. We must not forget our duties: to get the best of our students, to develop our tasks efficiently, to be in tune with the families and try to involve them more in their children education. All this can be possible with the help and consent of the Educational Civil Services: local, regional and central.

In education, the persons are the most important: we work with persons, we mix with persons and we are united by ties to them. All of us must commit ourselves and go on the ship course which is our Secondary School:

!!! The best training for our students will be our success guarantee !!!

Benidorm, February 2008

The Headmaster
Luis González Cortés